TRAVEL TALK

As 2026 unfolds, we find ourselves celebrating 48 years in business, which is quite an achievement for a small Independent Travel Agency.

Our longevity and success are a tribute to the hard work and commitment of our team, serving YOU our most valued clients, many of whom we have known for decades.

In the last few months both Julian and now Joan have retired, with over 40 years of service each, we wish them well for the future.

Our remaining team have a combined 150 years of service with KMT plus of course experience prior to joining our "family."

We continue to grow and take immense pleasure in looking after our existing clients and the lovely new referrals you give us.

We are fortunate to have relationships and support from the best UK Tour Operators in the field, which allows us to take great pride in tailoring bespoke travel to suit your needs to travel anywhere in the World.

Cruising is a firm favourite, Ocean and River along with exciting Expedition cruise journeys. From Cultural Tours and City breaks, or Sunshine to Ski, we cannot wait to bring your travel plans alive.

Our passion for exploring sends us off all around the world and we hope you enjoy some snippets from our 2025 adventures.

We are delighted this year to continue supporting our local GHA and East Renfrewshire Good Causes.

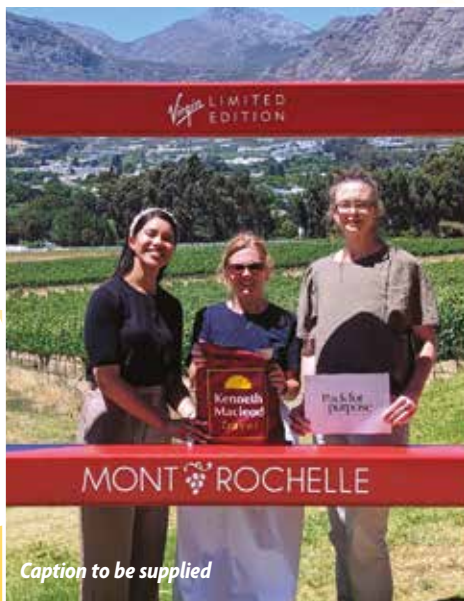

Further afield we would like to draw your attention to the charity "Pack for a Purpose." Set up to enable travellers to support some of the communities they visit.

www.Packforapurpose.org

In closing we all hope you enjoy this year's Travel Talk, please do not hesitate to contact the girls for ideas and to book your next adventure, wherever that may be!

Wishing you all the best for 2026

TAILOR-MADE HOLIDAYS

FROM SCOTTISH AIRPORTS

Kirker Holidays works closely with Kenneth Macleod to create carefully-crafted tailor-made holidays to a range of destinations which now includes more than 80 cities and some 250 countryside properties throughout Europe and the Mediterranean. Wherever you travel with Kirker, our philosophy has always been to create the perfect balance of comfort and cultural interest. Each hotel has been personally selected for its location, character and service, and you will always be greeted on arrival by the Kirker driver waiting to whisk you to your hotel. Morocco is the perfect destination for a tailor-made holiday; year round warm, sunny weather with a unique heritage combining French, Arab and Moorish cultures. For those who enjoy rail holidays, we are experts at creating tailor-made itineraries with Europe's finest rail journeys, which include El Transcantabrico and Al Andalus in Spain, scenic train journeys in Switzerland, and the Orient-Express.

Whatever your travel plans for 2026 and beyond, we would be delighted to help create the perfect tailor-made solution and can assure you that we shall do our utmost to exceed your expectations.

MARRAKECH

City & Countryside

With its deep pink terracotta walls, the scent of orange blossom and jacaranda lined boulevards, this colourful, magical city cannot fail to leave a striking impression on even the most well-travelled of visitors. Marrakech has a unique, hedonistic quality that will enthral and delight with snake charmers, singing and dancing water sellers in the fascinating, mediaeval bustle of the Djemaa El Fna Square – this is surely one of the last great ‘out of this world’ experiences. A short drive from the city centre however, the snow-capped peaks and lush valleys of the High Atlas Mountains offer a wonderful tonic to the hustle and bustle of city life with fresh mountain air, spectacular views and secluded Berber villages, making for an ideal choice for a twin-centre holiday. Try a seven-night holiday combining 4 nights at the Jardins de la Medina (4★ Superior) in Marrakech and 3 nights at The Capaldi (4★ Superior), an elegant retreat in the countryside between the Agafay Desert and the foothills of the Atlas Mountains.

Price from £1,997 per person, including flights from Glasgow to Marrakech, private transfers, a Marrakech private walking tour and seven nights’ accommodation with breakfast.

SCENIC RAIL JOURNEYS

Whether travelling overnight on the sumptuous Venice Simplon-Orient-Express or spending the day traversing the Swiss Alps, there is no better way to appreciate an ever changing landscape than by rail. The historic trains such as the Orient Express or El Transcantabrico perfectly capture the glamour and style of a bygone age, whilst the modern panoramic carriages of the Swiss trains provide exceptional views of the dramatic vistas. We can highly recommend a number of scenic and luxury rail journeys which travel through Italy, Switzerland, Spain, France and the United Kingdom – whichever rail journey you choose, we are experts in crafting tailor-made itineraries to create the perfect holiday.

In Switzerland, exploring the ‘top of Europe’, you can enjoy a three-night short break combining 1 night in Lucerne at the Hotel Des Balances (4★ Superior) and 2 nights at The Interlaken (4★ Superior) in Interlaken, as well as a scenic rail journey on the Lucerne-Interlaken Express, with panoramic views of lakes, waterfalls and the Alps, with the route crossing the Brünig Pass. The price starts from £1,279 per person including flights from Edinburgh to Zurich, accommodation with breakfast and a four-day 1st Class Swiss Rail Pass.

Prices are per person based on two sharing and include flights from Glasgow or Edinburgh, return transfers or rail, accommodation with breakfast, Kirker Guide Notes to restaurants, museums and sightseeing, and the services of the Kirker Concierge.

MOROCCO

BY GAYLE

Last October we decided to go on an adventure for our family holiday and chose Marrakech & The Atlas Mountains which was an unforgettable mix of colour, culture, and warmth. From the moment we stepped off the plane, the air was filled with the scent of spices and orange blossoms. The city buzzed with life, narrow streets lined with market stalls, vibrant textiles, and bustling souks. We loved it!

We stayed for 4 nights at the Sofitel Palais Imperial, located in the Hivernage district of Marrakech, walking distance to the Medina with all the sights but was the perfect location to escape the hustle and bustle of the main centre. The hotel's setting blends in with the charm of Moroccan palace-style architecture and landscaping and had 2 wonderful pools to enjoy and relax around after a day's sightseeing. Our temperature was perfect, a balmy 30 degrees with no humidity.

During our stay we chose a food walking tour taking us into the main square called Jemaa el-Fnaa, sampling Moroccan bread with honey, Moroccan soup, Cactus fruit which left our tongues very purple and ending with a Lamb Tanjia at a roof top restaurant which was amazing. Our guide was excellent and the following morning he took us on our half day city tour visiting all the main sights such as Le Koutoubia, Bahia Palace, the various Souks watching the Artisans at work, and Jardin Majorelle.

We had dinner at the lovely Riad Si Said within in the Medina and of course had to sample fresh mint tea.

Our next stay for 3 nights was at the foothills of the Atlas Mountains, just a 45 min drive from Marrakech brought us to The Capaldi hotel which was such a contrast to the busy city. Here it was calm, tranquil, and so beautiful and we instantly fell in love with the hotel. A boutique property with only 23 rooms and villas, so laid back with lots of Moroccan charm. Rooms are in Moroccan style, and many have views towards the Atlas Mountains or Agafay desert. The food was outstanding with a different set menu each evening, attentive staff and nothing was a bother. Pool areas were lovely, lots of Olive trees and they even had an indoor cinema.

We took a day trip to the Ourika Valley which was about 1 hour 30 mins up into the mountains and we climbed to see two waterfalls, had lunch by a river in Fattima village and ended the day with mint tea in a Berber House, it was a super day out.

We flew with Jet 2 direct from Glasgow to Marrakech with a flying time of around 3.5 to 4 hours, so easily accessible and Marrakech city is so close to the airport that a two centre was a perfect combination for us.

We have already decided that we will be returning to Morocco, what a special destination.

BENVENUTO ITALIA

BY JULIET & SHONA

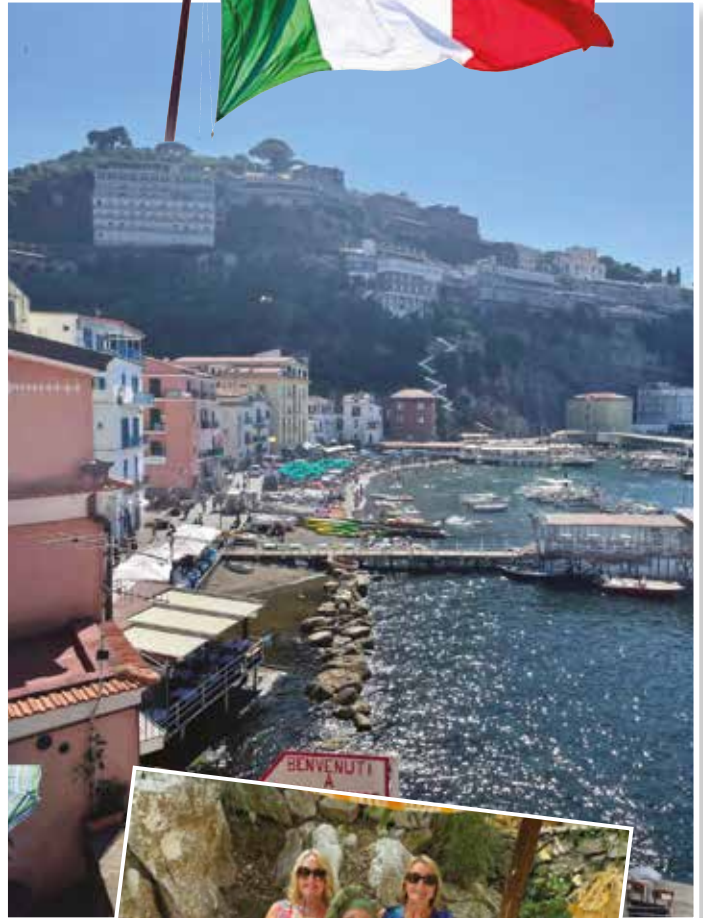

Juliet and Shona set off again last July to the stunning Amalfi coast. Such an easy journey with direct Scottish flights to Naples.

As Juliet's daughter was getting married in Italy it was the perfect opportunity to celebrate and enjoy a lovely holiday at the same time.

Local ferries ply the coast, providing easy access to the islands of Capri and Ischia, also the resorts of Positano, Amalfi and Ravello. Beautiful colourful towns cling to the rugged coast, affording amazing views and endless photo opportunities. These water routes provide the easiest and most convenient way to explore.

The Amalfi coast is famous not only for its beauty and historical interest, but for its friendly people, wonderful food and of course the locally produced wines!

The wedding venue was a delightful Agri-turismo family farm set in the lemon groves above Sant'Agata. We would highly recommend a visit for lunch or dinner, where you will enjoy delicious fresh farm to table cuisine.

Sorrento itself is a fascinating city. In the narrow colourful streets, you will find artisan shops and restaurants with traditional life still visible from the balconies and open windows of houses above.

The old port area at Marina Grande was a particular favourite of ours. Dining by the water's edge, we enjoyed the most delicious seafood at Emila Trattoria. A perfect afternoon.

There are many hotel offerings from the most luxurious to smaller boutique hotels. This part of Italy will not disappoint and is also a perfect inclusion in a more extensive Italian adventure.

You really must find time to visit – we have already booked to return!

MAJORCA

BY CHARLOTTE

Last October, we chose the beautiful Balearic Island of Majorca for our family getaway. Having visited the island a few times before, we settled on the stunning St Regis Mardavall Mallorca Resort, an easy 25-minute drive to this Mediterranean retreat.

We were welcomed with a glass of champagne and nibbles. Our Junior Suite had a stunning view of the Mediterranean Sea which we could enjoy from a large, welcoming balcony.

The Mardavall offers interconnecting rooms, making it an ideal option for families travelling with children, as rooms can be combined to create an even larger living space. There is also a wide variety of room types available, from Deluxe Rooms to three-bedroom suites for larger families.

The hotel features four pools, including a heated indoor/outdoor pool located at the spa, a wonderful place to relax which offers an impressive selection of treatments. Younger guests are well catered for too, with their own dedicated pool in the Explorers Children's area, a must-visit for families.

Dining at the hotel is a true highlight, with three restaurants on property, including a Michelin-starred restaurant. We dined at the hotel's main restaurant, Terra, and were delighted by the extensive menu, which offers something for every taste. Nothing was too much trouble for the staff. Exceptional service continued to impress throughout the evening. We ended our wonderful meal with the hotel's signature cocktail, the Mardavall Pepper Snapper, their creative interpretation of a Bloody Mary which is the perfect finish to a memorable dining experience.

Additional luxuries include butler service, bespoke afternoon tea, and a charming evening ritual, Sabrage, dating back to Napoleon who famously opened champagne with a sabre, this tradition has become a celebrated experience at the St. Regis Mardavall. It is fascinating to watch and even better to enjoy the champagne afterward!

We took the opportunity to explore the surrounding area. Puerto Portals, with its beautiful marina and great selection of restaurants, just 4 minutes by car or an easy 15-minute walk. Palma is also easily accessible. It's a stunning city, and the markets filled with artisan crafts and local artists are not to be missed. Our family holiday at the St Regis Mardavall was an experience we will not forget!

Japan's first-time favourites

TOYKO | HAKONE | KYOTO

IDEAL TIME: 9 NIGHTS | WHEN TO GO: MAY - JUN

Tenderfoot travellers are introduced to a world of discovery in Japan, with a tour that hits the sweet spot between easy-going and on the go, leaving a lasting impression and a longing to return. Tokyo lures even the most introverted out of their travel shell with shopping and authentic classes between a spot of temple touring. Hakone steals hearts with an evening in a traditional ryokan with private hot springs, only for Kyoto to swoop in, boasting its Geisha district and nearby Nara National Park.

WHERE TO GO...

Get to know where you'll be exploring in Japan, from Tokyo's glowing neon streets to the traditions of Kyoto's Geisha district.

DAY 1-3 | TOKYO | STAY AT: Bulgari Hotel Tokyo

Full of heritage highlights and futuristic delights, just to explore the must-see sights of Tokyo could take an entire trip.

DAY 4 | HAKONE | STAY AT: Gora Kadan

In the shadow of Mount Fuji, Hakone – one of Japan's most popular onsen resorts – is bursting with natural beauty.

DAY 5-8 | KYOTO | STAY AT: The Ritz-Carlton Kyoto

As expected from the birthplace of Geisha culture, Kyoto is beguilingly spiritual and beautifully traditional.

ITINERARY HIGHLIGHTS

// Ride the Ropeway to Owakudani Valley in Hakone, to see its hot springs and rivers before a private cruise on Lake Ashi

// A private guided tour of Kyoto's most famous shrines and temples, including the Kodaiji Temple of the Yasakajinja Shrine, the Kinkaku-ji (Golden Pavillion) Temple and the Ryoan-ji Temple

// Experience a private dinner and Geisha performance, before a show with a local musician

// Explore Tokyo's Harajuku district among trendy teens and sweet teeth, bursting with boutiques and foodie spots

// Start the day with a mindful wander around Yoyogi Park and the Meiji Jingu shrine, spotting the decorative 'Kazaridaru' sake barrels lining the walkways

THE AFRICAN QUEENS

BY JULIE & MICHELLE

Last October I kicked the KMT gang off on the South Africa trail and wow what a holiday! It was so easy and relaxing as we chose not to drive and we had short and easy transfers between Cape Town, Hermanus and Franschhoek.

We started with a 5-night stay in Cape Town, on a previous stay I did the cable car trip up Table Mountain and visited Boulders Beach to see the crazy penguins so on this holiday Robben Island was top of my list. It was a very interesting and moving excursion made so by our ex-prisoner guide. We took the Hop on Hop off Red Tour bus which has 3 routes, and this allows you to get as far as Cape Point, the most southern east corner of the Cape. We jumped off at Camps Bay, one of my new favourite places! A great beach vibe with lots of restaurants and bars lining the promenade and a quick Uber round from Cape Town. I could have easily stayed a week here.

The waterfront area in Cape Town known as the Victoria and Alfred is a super base and a very safe working harbour area full of shopping, hotels, apartments and superb restaurants to enjoy al fresco dining daytime or evening.

We moved along to the seaside resort of Hermanus for a 2-night stay. There is a great coastal walk from the Old Harbour to the New Harbour and beyond with a few amazing eateries along the cliff path. There are great art galleries in Hermanus, so many for a small town.

Moving on to another of my favourite areas of the winelands, Franschhoek. It's such a pretty town with stunning mountain scenery as your backdrop and so many amazing wineries on tap to try. The Wine tram is the way to do it, such a fun experience visiting as many as possible of the working wineries where you can stop for a beautiful lunch or enjoy a prearranged picnic in the grounds. Very much an outdoors area and popular for cycling and hiking as well as fabulous food and wine.

This was a very easy itinerary and ideal for any first timers to South Africa. We had a mixture of accommodations from an apartment to a luxury resort hotel in Cape Town to beautiful boutique B & B's. What did I love about my trip, EVERYTHING! The food, wine, people, art, sunshine, NO JET LAG and such great value for exceptional quality of food and wine. South Africa might be further than your typical European winter sun destination however it's definitely worth the journey. South Africa, I will be back!

By Julie

I travelled to one of my favourite destinations, South Africa last November. I started my adventure on Safari for 2-nights at Shamwari on the Eastern Cape. What an experience being so close to Lion, Elephants, Giraffe, Zebra, Cheetah and Rhino. This is such a bucket list experience which should be on everyone's wish list.

From here I started my road trip along the Garden Route from Port Elizabeth via Plettenberg Bay to Fancourt in George. This hotel is a must if you are a Golfer, designed by Gary Player with a choice of 4 courses to play. Fancourt offers other activities and has a wonderful Spa so plenty to do or just relax and enjoy this fabulous resort.

My next stay was in Swellendam for an overnight at the quirky Rothman Manor Boutique Hotel, look out for Zebra roaming in the garden! Next stop was Hermanus, unfortunately we had no whale sightings, so just enjoyed our stay at Harbour House and explored this lovely Beach Town which offers many restaurants to enjoy the freshly caught seafood.

From Hermanus I headed to one of my favourite spots, Franschhoek. A couple of nights spent at both Leeu House and Le Quartier Francais, perfect! The best way to explore this area is on the Wine Tram, which is great fun. I can also highly recommend a spot of lunch at La Petite Ferme and Delaire Graff.

My final stop was Cape Town and a wonderful stay at one of The Leading Hotels of the World, The Silo.

From drinks in the Silo Rooftop Bar to Dinner in Willaston Bar, this is such a Wow Hotel.

The artwork around the hotel is worth a visit to see and views of Table Mountain from here are stunning. Highly recommended is drinks in Harry's Bar, a spot of lunch at the Life Grand Café on the waterfront and you must fit in an Afternoon Tea at The Mount Nelson Hotel where there are too many cakes to choose from. What an adventure I had, and I will be back!!

OUR LOVE OF AFRICA

BY JULIET & SHONA

The KMT team have been visiting this great continent for over 35 years. We have had the privilege of visiting Tanzania, Zimbabwe, Namibia, Kenya, Zanzibar and of course South Africa many times. In late 2025 Julie, Michelle, Juliet and Shona all made South Africa their holiday of choice.

There is a magical magnetic pull that draws you back time and again. The warmth of the people, the beautiful landscapes, whether rugged mountains and coastline, vibrant cities or the vast African bush with its enormous skies and incredible safari experiences. A rich cultural tapestry awaits – a glorious blend of old and new.

“TO TRAVEL IS LIKE A DREAM,
WHERE IMAGINATION IS LIMITLESS AND POSSIBILITIES ENDLESS”

We were thrilled to leave the dark days and winter storms behind us.

A short flight from Johannesburg brought us to our first lodge, Sabi Sabi Earth Lodge - a luxury camp literally built into the earth. With every little detail seamlessly thought of, this polished camp is ideal for R & R. High end but not stuffy. We visited the other lodges in the Sabi Sabi family – Little Bush, Selati and Bush Lodge.

The big five were spotted and we were especially excited to witness a family of rare wild dogs with seven pups playing with the remnants of a kill and chasing after the opportunistic vultures.

Leopard Hills – we enjoyed a three-hour journey through part bush and small communities learning about local life.

A Seasons in Africa property Leopard Hills, a complete contrast to Earth Lodge, set high and partly on stilts, its rustic charm offered both ground level and elevated suites. Our pool deck merged into the surrounding bush and was visited by Elephants, Kudu, Wildebeest, Impala and more! The game viewings were outstanding and the landscape so varied, the Sands River afforded opportunities to see Crocodile, Hippo and multiple water birds.

Kings Camp – a short hour's journey set in the Timbavati private game reserve, Kings Camp became our final bush home. The landscape again different and seemingly vast.

The game viewing incredible, large herds of Elephant, Buffalo, Lion, Rhino, Giraffe, Zebra, not to ignore the many antelope varieties. We even saw the Leopard drag its kill high into the trees. A thrilling end to our day.

We were visiting in early December - the Green Season where we found stunning scenery, healthy animals and new life in abundance.

Between the two of us a quick calculation, we realised we have visited over 50 camps in Africa and still counting!

We were so sad to leave the bush, but onwards to the Cape and the gorgeous Lanzerac Wine Estate in Stellenbosch. A perfect location to unwind. We enjoyed their luxurious spa, sipping champagne and taking in the views. Ten minutes to town, luxury accommodation set in beautiful gardens with mountain views to die for. We highly recommend!

Next on to Franschhoek and The Franschhoek Country House, a beautiful property set in charming gardens. Once again set just out of town and so relaxing.

We couldn't leave South Africa without visiting one of our favourite hotels. The Belmond Mount Nelson affectionately known as "The Nellie". An oasis of calm in busy Cape Town.

Always a highlight of any trip! It should be on everyone's wish list.

MAURITIUS

BY GAYLE

Last November, I was given a wonderful opportunity with Beachcomber Tours to revisit their exceptional hotels on the island of Mauritius and discover all the new developments and properties added to their collection since my last visit. I was not disappointed!

Mauritius is a gem in the Indian Ocean and offers crystal lagoons, palm fringed beaches and a mix of cultures and cuisine, it's so true what they say, the charm of this island will stay with you forever and I was so happy to be back!

We flew direct from London Gatwick with Air Mauritius, though from Scotland a popular option is Emirates via Dubai, or alternatively British Airways via London. Many of the Beachcomber hotels offer an All-Inclusive package that starts as soon as you arrive at the hotel and continues until you depart, regardless of official check-in or check-out times. This is a real bonus if you arrive early or have a late departure.

Beachcomber is one of Mauritius's most established and respected hotel groups and during my trip we stayed at Paradis, Le Victoria, Trou Aux Biches and Shandrani. We visited the other hotels Royal Palm, Canonnier, Mauricia, Dinarobin so I was able to get a good feel and experience what a stay could feel like. I think my favourite is still Trou Aux Biches and exciting news as it's closing from May to October 2026 for a refurbishment so it will be looking more amazing once it re-opens.

During my trip we experienced Ziplining at Valle Adventure Park, E-Biking at Paradis, a walking food tour in Port Louis (the capital), Sunset Cruise from Grand Baie, speed boat and snorkelling trip from Shandrani and a lovely Spa treatment! The island has so much to offer so you need to get out and about to explore.

Both Shandrani and Le Victoria now offer Adult Only areas for over 18's with dedicated wings and swim up rooms are offered at Le Victoria, wow, loved these areas and I was lucky to stay in the Shandrani for 2 rooms (see Beachcomber page).

Mauritius is a perfect family friendly destination, with the resorts offering action packed kids' and teen

clubs where younger guests are well looked after, giving parents peace of mind. At the same time, there are plenty of opportunities to enjoy precious family time together. The hotels offer an excellent choice of family accommodation, including interconnecting rooms, spacious suites, and private villas, ensuring there are options to suit every family, you certainly won't be disappointed.

The weather in Mauritius can be described as having a tropical climate with two main seasons: a hot, humid summer (Nov to Apr) and a cooler, drier winter (May to Oct) I travelled late Nov and weather was perfect, around 30 degrees daytime but the island is an all-round destination and so popular in our summer months for family holidays with an average temp around 24 degrees and great value for money compared to Europe at this time of year.

If you are a golfer, you will love Mauritius and staying at Paradis where you can tee off just a mere 30 metres from the hotel reception and play the 18-hole championship course! Weddings are also very popular at the resorts with only one guaranteed per day so a perfect place for the perfect day!

What can I say, Mauritius has it all, so you need to experience the island for yourself, and I would be delighted to help you find the right resort. I can't wait to return to one of my favourite places in the world.

IKOS PORTO PETRO

BY JULIE

Unconditional Luxury sounds appealing, doesn't it? The ethos of Ikos Resorts, a group of properties in Spain and the Greek Islands who are celebrating their 10th anniversary this year. Newer to the British market, and certainly proving to be a hit, you can experience a unique superior all-inclusive concept for families and couples alike.

I stayed at Ikos Porto Petro in Majorca to experience on our client's behalf of course! I had the most amazing time.

A fantastic location on the East Coast of Majorca, near Cala D'or and the Mondrago National Park with the picturesque Porto Petro Marina on your doorstep.

From the moment you arrive you are welcomed by the most professional and friendliest staff, who will whisk you off to your luxurious accommodation. That is after they have confirmed all your dining reservations are in place any Kids and Teen Club sessions you have prebooked.

The accommodation is finished to an exceptional standard and boast some of the most spacious I have seen. All rooms are contemporary in design, from double through to suite level with large furnished terraces. There are also some with your own Private Garden, Family Suites, Junior Suites, One Bedroom Suites, and an amazing collection of Deluxe one, two, and three-bedroom suites with Private Pools.

New for 2026 are indulgent three and four-bedroom villas with Private Gardens and Pools, which are simply perfect for a special family holiday or groups of couples or friends. There is an option for everyone.

Why not upgrade to The Deluxe Collection, where guests are even more indulge with dedicated pools and beach areas, spa treatments and not forgetting the chilled Taittinger!

Dining in the resort is a wonderful experience at any of the five a la carte restaurants, I sampled them all naturally. Another unique offering, dine out from a list of hand-picked local restaurants at no extra cost, no bill at the end of the night, you cannot beat that!

Let us get to the activities on offer, fancy a yoga or Pilates class then why not try the ultra-modern fitness studio and cardio room. As the resort is set between sandy coves it is perfect for water sports and if you are relaxing on the beach your cocktail is just a buzzer away. Land sports are impressive too, mini football pitch and new Padel courts and tennis courts are waiting for you. I enjoyed the complimentary bikes and cycled to Cala D'Or and explored the beautiful coastline.

If you feel like a change of scene from your luxurious All-Inclusive resort, also included is a "Local Discovery" an experience allowing you to explore the destinations culture with a complimentary electric MINI Countryman for the day.

The resort and facilities are pristine and Ikos manages very well to cater for all guests.

Ikos say Porto Petro is their Majestic Mallorca Sanctuary, I would agree and highly recommend a stay.

As I left, the only question on my mind was which Ikos Resort will I visit next!

NEW YORK

BY LISA

I have the bug, the weekend travel bug! Last year we spent a weekend in Toronto so this year we stepped it up, quite literally and headed to New York. Wow, what a fantastic weekend it was.

I have the bug, the weekend travel bug! Last year we spent a weekend in Toronto so this year we stepped it up, quite literally and headed to New York. Wow, what a fantastic weekend it was.

We flew direct from Edinburgh, on United Airline's daily service to Newark. Starting in May they will offer a daily Glasgow service so a fantastic addition to our North American travel itineraries.

Our home for the weekend was the boutique Hendricks Hotel, situated on 38th Street, a few blocks from Times Square, Bryant Park, and Herald Square so ideal for exploring. I will never forget when my head finally hit the pillow, and I looked out the window to see the Empire State Building twinkling at me. It is what dreams are made of, well mine are!

We purchased the 3-day New York Pass, and it is the way to go. Quick, easy, and best value. We quickly booked ourselves on the Harbour Lights Cruise with Circle Line for that evening. A fantastic way to see the famous skyline and of course, Lady Liberty as she stands tall for all to see.

Next day we were off out early, the underground took us to Dumbo, and we watched the Sunrise rise over the Brooklyn Bridge, then a walk over the bridge. We spent the day wandering around the city and after 30,000 steps we covered Chinatown, Little Italy, The Stock Exchange (where you must try a Liberty Everything Bagel), The World Trade Centre and then an emotional few hours at the 9/11 Memorial & Museum. Did you know, there is a rose placed on the engraved name of each person to mark their birthday. A very emotional and loving tribute.

On Saturday, we started out at The Stardust Diner for an entertaining breakfast. This is so much fun, having the server sing Les Miserable to you whilst pouring coffee. Another walk around Manhattan took us by Radio City Halls, Rockefeller Centre and a pit stop at an Irish Pub, well it was St Patricks weekend! Finished off the day as our feet could take no more, with a hop on/ hop off bus tour around Central Park. That night, we booked a Broadway show, Sunset Boulevard This was a real highlight for us, a Broadway performance. We finished with a walk to Junior's for their famous cheesecake.

Sunday took us back down Broadway, passing Madison Square Gardens and into Chelsea for the Chelsea Market. There is a hidden rooftop garden at Pier 57 where you can see Little Island, Hudson River and the start of The High Line, an elevated old rail line which has been transformed with gardens and art pieces. Although we walked around the city, the Underground is great, quick, reasonable, and easy to navigate. We dined that evening at the famous Carmines, where the portion sizes are definitely family size, and they did the best Ceasar Salad ever!

Since this was our last night in the Big Apple, we had to head to Times Square for the 'Midnight Moment' where all the screens synchronise to show digital artwork for a few minutes prior to the new day starting.

On our final day we were lucky enough to catch the St Patrick's parade along 5th Avenue, what an experience!

What an amazing weekend, so much to see and do, so where to next?

ST. LUCIA

BY MICHELLE

Last June, I was fortunate to be invited on a wonderful trip to the stunning island of St Lucia with one of our lovely tour operators, Lusso. It had been quite some time since my last visit, so I was delighted to be reacquainted with the island and to explore many of the beautiful hotels.

Flights were with British Airways via Gatwick. Flying time from London to St Lucia is approximately 9 hours, making it a comfortable journey to the Caribbean sunshine.

On arrival into St Lucia, we headed to Windjammer Landing for our first two nights. It is a charming hillside resort on St Lucia's beautiful north-west coast, offering a unique blend of relaxed Caribbean atmosphere, and stunning ocean views.

With its wide choice of spacious villas, many featuring multiple bedrooms and private terraces, it is particularly well-suited to multigenerational families and groups wanting both comfort and space to spread out.

A visit to Castries market is an experience to buy spices and of course West Indian hot sauces. I also managed some rum tasting on the beach, well it would have been rude to say no!

Another highlight of the trip was Cap Maison, one of my favorite boutique luxury hotels perched on a beautiful clifftop on the north of the island. The views across the Caribbean Sea are simply stunning, especially at sunset. The whole resort feels intimate and sophisticated while still being wonderfully relaxed. They have an extensive Wine Cellar where you can enjoy dinner and work your way through many recommended wines on offer.

From Cap Maison we transferred by boat to Anse Chastanet for a look around and I was really excited to see Jade Mountain, which appeared on Amazing Hotels of the World. The views of the famous and stunning Pitons were breathtaking.

Jade Mountain is one of the Caribbean's most spectacular resorts, perched high on a hillside overlooking Anse Chastanet and the UNESCO listed Pitons. Famous for its dramatic open air sanctuary suites, each designed with a missing fourth wall. The view becomes part of your room. Just WOW!

My last two nights were spent at Sugar Beach, one of St. Lucia's most luxurious and scenic resorts, set on a stunning white sandy beach directly between the two iconic Pitons. The setting feels like a private world, beach bliss below and rainforest magic above.

It was so lovely to have the sun shining, and although this is not typically considered the prime time to visit (I would usually suggest November to April), I can honestly say I would highly recommend coming at this time of year.

St Lucia, a destination that offers such variety and great beauty, perfect for either relaxing on the coast or a multi-centre experience.

Don't take our word for it...

Our family holiday to Morocco was absolutely unforgettable, thanks to the exceptional planning and care from Gayle at KMT. This trip exceeded all expectations and created memories we'll cherish forever. We can't recommend Gayle and KMT highly enough for anyone seeking a truly magical and stress-free adventure!

We have been with Kenneth Macleod Travel since our first trip to America in 1988. Shona and all the staff service and with their wide experience, have guided us go a bit wrong when we are on holiday, they are only a phone call away and all is sorted. We wouldn't use anyone else!

We have been booking our holidays with Charlotte at Kenneth Macleod Travel for a number of years and have been delighted with her service. Charlotte always ensures that our holidays run smoothly and does her best to make sure each one is special.

We recently used Kenneth Macleod Travel for a bucket list trip to Canada. We wanted to experience Alaska on one of their newer ships, Silver Nova and we thoroughly enjoyed the ship which was stunning. When you book with Kenneth Macleod you book with confidence and with their professionalism and attention to detail you will have a wonderful holiday. I have recommended the company to all my friends, and no one has been disappointed. The only thing Julie didn't do was pack my suitcase!!

We have been very fortunate to travel to South America, the South of France, the Danube and Barbados this year, sometimes with complicated travel arrangements. Having been looked after for more than thirty years by Juliet we were confident that everything would go smoothly. It's also great to know that Juliet and the rest of the team at Kenneth Macleod Travel have so much practical experience of so many destinations, hotels and routes. It ensures we make the best of every travel adventure.
